WEALTH MANAGEMENT

TROY BRUNNER

Business Development Officer

Troy Brunner joined Laird Norton Wealth Management in 2015 and is currently a Business Development Officer. In this role, Troy is charged with explaining to people who have achieved success, especially in the tech sector or via startups, how LNWM's integrated approach to wealth management can provide them with a lifetime advantage: By aligning their assets and finances with the life they want, by allowing them to provide for their families and their communities, and by helping them create a legacy that will last for many generations.

Troy serves as the link between LNWM's experts in investing, financial planning and trusts and estate planning and prospective clients seeking to make the most of their wealth now and into the future. He is especially adept at understanding the needs and concerns of busy professionals who have little time to think strategically about investing and deploying their wealth.

Prior to becoming a Business Development Officer, Troy was a Client Service Associate at LNWM, where he worked closely with LNWM analysts and advisors to deliver customized solutions for each client's unique needs, and a Private Banker at Wells Fargo. Troy holds a Bachelor of Arts in Biological Anthropology from Western Washington University. He serves as a board member and chairs the Finance Committee of Path with Art, a non-profit aiming to transform the lives of people recovering from homelessness and addiction.
