LESLIE HARRISON

Senior Compliance Officer and Associate General Counsel

Leslie Harrison is senior compliance officer and associate general counsel at Laird Norton Wealth Management (LNWM). She has more than 30 years of experience as a corporate attorney and compliance officer in the financial services sector. Prior to joining LNWM, Leslie served for seven years as the Chief Compliance Officer at Filament LLC, a wealth advisory firm that merged with LNWM in December 2020. Before Filament, Leslie practiced securities and corporate law in the Seattle area, including senior in-house positions at JP Morgan Chase and SAFECO, as well as serving as compliance officer at other financial companies.

Leslie is a member of the Washington State Bar and received her law degree from Loyola Law School in Los Angeles, where she was an editor of the law review and a member of the St. Thomas More Law Honor Society. Prior to law school, she attended Arizona State University where she received a BA (magna cum laude) in history and an MA in education.
