SUSAN TALTON

Client Advisor

Susan Talton joined Laird Norton Wealth Management in 2008 and serves as a client advisor. With more than 25 years of wealth management experience, Susan truly enjoys nurturing close relationships with her clients to help them through significant life transitions.

As a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ Professional, Susan firmly believes that thorough and integrated financial planning is the key to achieving personal goals. Although Susan addresses a range of financial issues, she often helps her clients successfully transition their lives through a separation, divorce or the death of a spouse. Another special interest for Susan is retirement planning. She was instrumental in forming Laird Norton Wealth Management's Retirement Life Planning Group.

Prior to joining LNWM, Susan worked as a Financial Consultant at Smith Barney. While there, she advised clients on a variety of financial topics, including women in transition, retirement planning, elder planning, and philanthropic initiatives. Widely recognized for her financial acumen, Susan is a board member at the Washington Planned Giving Council, the Downtown Seattle Association, and the Pike Place Market Foundation. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of South Carolina.
